Lining: Light Filtering · Hardware: Basic Rod With White Finials (Brushed Nickel)
Grade: B Draw: Center (split) · Fullness: 2.5×

basic linen in light gray — Scandinavian.

AI Notes · double hung (95%)
→ The window features simple, light gray linen panels that hang straight and clean, providing a minimalist look. The fabric is matte with a soft, natural texture, allowing diffused light to filter through, creating a serene and airy atmosphere. The hardware is a basic white rod with matching finials, ensuring the focus remains on the fabric's simplicity. The overall emotional impact is one of calm and understated elegance, complementing the room's transitional style.
→ This simple approach works well for the space as it maintains the room's clean lines and neutral palette, enhancing the Scandinavian inspiration with its minimalist design. The light-filtering lining provides privacy while still allowing natural light to brighten the room.

Roman Shade With Sheers

Wall Mount

Lining: Blackout With Interlining · Hardware: Ornamental Rod With Brushed Nickel Finials (Brushed Nickel)
Grade: B Draw: Center (split) · Fullness: 2.5×

textured linen with a subtle white pattern — Scandinavian. sheers behind Roman shade

AI Notes · double hung (95%)
→ The window is adorned with a Roman shade made of textured linen featuring a subtle white pattern, adding depth and interest. Behind the shade, light white sheers create a soft glow as light passes through, enhancing the room's hygge warmth. The shade's fabric has a nubby weave, providing a tactile contrast to the smooth sheers. The hardware is an ornamental rod with brushed nickel finials, adding a touch of sophistication. The overall effect is cozy and inviting, with the layered textures creating a sense of warmth and comfort.
→ The layered approach with the Roman shade and sheers adds dimension and texture to the window, aligning with the Scandinavian aesthetic by incorporating light birch-like tones and a minimalist yet warm feel. The blackout lining ensures privacy and light control, while the interlining adds body and insulation.

Ultimate Luxury

Sheers + Drapery Panels + Cornice Wall Mount

Lining: Contrast Lining Reveal In White · Hardware: Hidden Motorized Track With Custom Hand Forged Iron Brackets (Brushed Nickel)
Grade: B Draw: Center (split) · Fullness: 2.5×

crushed silk velvet with a deep luster in light gray, white embroidered sheers — Scandinavian. tassel tiebacks, beaded fringe on cornice

AI Notes · double hung (95%)
→ The window treatment is a luxurious statement with white embroidered sheers that glow softly with light, layered with full-length drapery panels of crushed silk velvet in light gray, creating a deep, rich luster. The panels are topped with a custom cornice adorned with beaded fringe, adding a touch of opulence. The motorized track ensures smooth operation, while the hand-forged iron brackets add a subtle artisan touch. Tassel tiebacks in matching gray hold the panels elegantly to the side when open. The overall effect is dramatic and grand, with the interplay of light creating a luxurious ambiance that commands attention.
→ This multi-layered treatment provides the 'wow factor' with its rich textures and premium materials, reflecting the ultimate in Scandinavian luxury. The crushed silk velvet's sheen contrasts beautifully with the embroidered sheers, while the motorized functionality and custom hardware elevate the design to a statement piece, enhancing the room's elegance and sophistication.

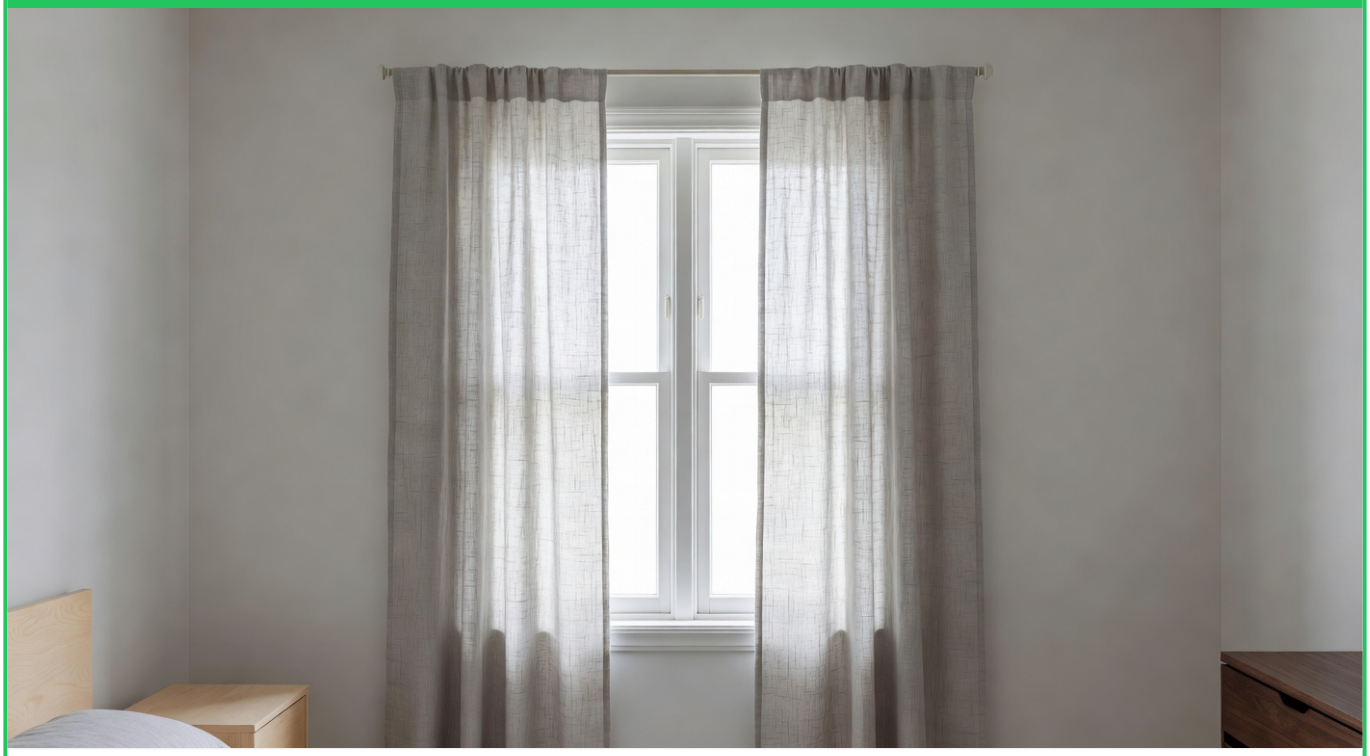
ELEGANT ESSENTIAL



single-layer panels — Scandinavian

$200 – $600

Fabric: basic linen in light gray Lining: light-filtering Hardware: basic rod with white finials

The window features simple, light gray linen panels that hang straight and clean, providing a minimalist look. The fabric is matte with a soft, natural texture, allowing diffused light to filter through, creating a serene and airy atmosphere. The hardware is a basic white rod with matching finials, ensuring the focus remains on the fabric's simplicity. The overall emotional impact is one of calm and understated elegance, complementing the room's transitional style.

This simple approach works well for the space as it maintains the room's clean lines and neutral palette, enhancing the Scandinavian inspiration with its minimalist design. The light-filtering lining provides privacy while still allowing natural light to brighten the room.

DESIGNER'S CHOICE

Roman shade with sheers — Scandinavian

$600 – $1,500

Fabric: textured linen with a subtle white pattern Lining: blackout with interlining Hardware: ornamental rod with brushed nickel finials

Extras: sheers behind Roman shade

The window is adorned with a Roman shade made of textured linen featuring a subtle white pattern, adding depth and interest. Behind the shade, light white sheers create a soft glow as light passes through, enhancing the room's hygge warmth. The shade's fabric has a nubby weave, providing a tactile contrast to the smooth sheers. The hardware is an ornamental rod with brushed nickel finials, adding a touch of sophistication. The overall effect is cozy and inviting, with the layered textures creating a sense of warmth and comfort.

The layered approach with the Roman shade and sheers adds dimension and texture to the window, aligning with the Scandinavian aesthetic by incorporating light birch-like tones and a minimalist yet warm feel. The blackout lining ensures privacy and light control, while the interlining adds body and insulation.

sheers + drapery panels + cornice — Scandinavian

$1,500 – $4,000

Fabric: crushed silk velvet with a deep luster in light gray, white embroidered sheers Lining: contrast lining reveal in white

Hardware: hidden motorized track with custom hand-forged iron brackets Extras: tassel tiebacks, beaded fringe on cornice

The window treatment is a luxurious statement with white embroidered sheers that glow softly with light, layered with full-length drapery panels of crushed silk velvet in light gray, creating a deep, rich luster. The panels are topped with a custom cornice adorned with beaded fringe, adding a touch of opulence. The motorized track ensures smooth operation, while the hand-forged iron brackets add a subtle artisan touch. Tassel tiebacks in matching gray hold the panels elegantly to the side when open. The overall effect is dramatic and grand, with the interplay of light creating a luxurious ambiance that commands attention.

This multi-layered treatment provides the 'wow factor' with its rich textures and premium materials, reflecting the ultimate in Scandinavian luxury. The crushed silk velvet's sheen contrasts beautifully with the embroidered sheers, while the motorized functionality and custom hardware elevate the design to a statement piece, enhancing the room's elegance and sophistication.

Recommendations:

- Ensure all hardware is mounted above or behind any valance or cornice to maintain a clean look.
- Choose hardware that complements the treatment style; ornate finials with velvet panels, simple rods with linen.
- Consider the weight of the fabric when selecting hardware to ensure proper support.
